

1984: year of celebration in Minden

1984 marks a very special year in the townships of Anson, Hindon and Minden.

The municipality will be marking its one hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary as a political entity.

In addition to the local anniversary, the province is also marking its bicentennial, which will add to the historical significance of the year.

Locally a special 125th/bicentennial committee has been formed to co-ordinate activities for the year. Councillors Dave Stevens and Gary Kenney are co-chairing the committee which also includes representatives from various service clubs and organizations in the community.

Rather than plan a number of events to mark the two anniversaries, the committee has asked organizations to add the 125th/bicentennial theme to their ongoing projects so that the celebration can take place throughout the year. For example, the Kinsmen's Winter Carnival will have a heritage theme this year with special prizes for the best floats and individual costumes in the opening parade. A contest will also be held for ice sculptures with the heritage theme.

A number of groups which do not hold special events through the year, are also planning activities as part of the celebrations. The following list of activities has been proposed by various groups and organizations. The list is tentative at this time and may change as the year progresses.

- The Haliburton County Snowmobile Association will hold an antique snowmobile show with the assistance of the Canadian Antique Snowmobile Association. The display will coincide with the winter carnival.

- The Minden Library plans to hold a soap box derby with vehicles and costumes from the 1930's. Children will be encouraged to construct their own machines and wear clothing from that era. As well a glass case will be installed in the library to hold the 1902 minute book from the library committee.

- The Minden Women's Institute will mark their seventy-seventh anniversary and the community's with a pot luck supper.

- The Minden Heritage Quilters will begin work on a quilt depicting area and provincial historical themes. The project will be done at a number of public locations and the finished quilt will be displayed at community events.

- The Minden Agricultural Society plans a heritage parade for the annual fall fair. The theme will be on village merchants of the 19th century with prizes for floats and costumes. The horse pull during the fair will feature male and female teamsters in a single horse competition without handlers or assistants. Also part of the fair will be steam power demonstrations, pioneer needlework contest, a school prose/poetry competition based on heritage themes and a bicentennial theme cover for the fair booklet.

Ruth Hegenauer was the grand prize winner in The Times Hometown Christmas promotion. Her ticket was selected Saturday at noon in a draw which included over 15,000 entries. Mrs. Hegenauer was surprised and pleased with her early Christmas windfall. The grand prize was $200 cash. Four other area shoppers won $25 cash prizes given out each week of the promotion.

Body found in snowbank

An 18 year old youth was found frozen to death in deep snow a short distance from the edge of County Road 13 in Stanhope Township early Saturday afternoon. The body was that of 18 year old Timothy Shawn Clark, a ward of the Lindsay Children's Aid Society, who was staying at a foster home on Highway 35, Halls Lake.

The body was discovered at 1 p.m. by a resident who was driving a tractor along the roadway. It had apparently been there since late the night before, when the youth left a party at a home on the road in an attempt to walk home.

Police report Clark was dressed in light clothing. He wandered off the road and into the deep snow. The tracks of the youth indicate he was walking aimlessly and fell several times before finally falling without getting up.

It is believed Clark died of hypothermia, the lowering of the body temperature to the point that death ensues.

The body was taken to Peterborough for a post mortem examination December 25. The investigating coroner was Dr. Harry Good. Investigating officer is Constable Mike Legge with Corporal Steve Adam supervising. No inquest has been scheduled.

Arrest

Police arrested a Mattawa man as he arrived in Minden by bus December 22. Charged with possession of a narcotic for the purpose of trafficking is 18 year old Steven Holm.

According to the police report, a quantity of hashish and marijuana cigarettes were seized when the man was arrested.

Constable Mike Maher is the investigating officer.

Accident

A charge of careless driving has been laid against a Peterborough man following an incident December 19 Highway 121 north, two km east of Minden.

Mark Elstone, 18, was charged after the car he was driving collided with a vehicle driven by Eldon Bull, 45, of Minden. According to police, the Elstone vehicle sideswiped the Bull vehicle as the two cars met on a curve.

Damage to the two vehicles was estimated at $3000.

Constable Mike Legge is the investigating officer.

Appeal made to Cabinet over sewer rate hike

In order to avoid a sewer rate increase that, according to Anson, Hindon and Minden Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas, "is beyond the ability of this municipality to pay," the township council is planning to take its case to the Ontario Cabinet in hopes of finding some relief for a growing debt problem.

The drafting of the appeal to the Cabinet is being carried out at the moment and should be submitted for consideration in early January.

The appeal was prompted by a notification received from the Ministry of Environment, owners of the sewage treatment facility in Minden, that annual fees for the plant would increase from $57,200 in 1983 to $145,474 in 1984.

Pergolas said the municipality would simply be unable to meet the payments being requested. He said the MOE was being unfair in notifying the municipality in early December of such a drastic increase that was to take place January 1.

The initial reason for the large increase stems from a change in determining the method of billing. In the past the Ministry billed the municipality based on usage or flow through the facility. Starting in 1984, the cost of the plant's operation would be determined in advance taking into consideration the flow, cost of operation, and the cost of the debentures which were sold when the plant was built. It is this last item, the interest costs of the debentures and the growing debt, which has resulted in the huge increase.

History

The following is a brief history of the sewer service in Minden leading up to the present request from the MOE.

-The sewer treatment plant and sewer line were installed and operation began in 1979 at a total cost of $4,152,143.

-87%, or $3,607,350 of the cost was absorbed immediately by the two senior levels of government through grants. This left 13% or $544,793 as the township's share.

Prepaid frontage charges and charges collected for connections reduced the township's share by $65,608 leaving an unpaid balance of $479,184.

-Those who did not prepay the frontage charge, an annual 20¢ per foot of frontage per year for 30 years was assessed.

-The debt charges on the unpaid balance were $34,086 in 1979 and $49,609 for the remaining 20 years.

-The operating costs of the sewage treatment plant is approximately $60,000. That amount plus the annual debt charges should determine the annual cost of the facility, $109,600.

However:

-When the facility was constructed, it was built to accommodate a larger population. Part of the repayment schedule took into consideration a rate of growth from close to 200 users to 1338 in the year 2002. That growth has not occurred.

-The MOE, in an effort to ease the initial start up costs of a new facility, have built into the repayment system a method of deficit financing. This means for the first few years the payments made by the municipality to the ministry do not cover actual costs. The payments would automatically increase over time to eventually meet the costs and then be greater than the annual requirement to retire the deficit incurred initially. This repayment scheme is based, however, on regular growth to the system. This growth has not occurred.

Debt increases

This situation has left the municipality with a debt load, in relation to the sewer system, that is increasing each year. For example, this year the townships are being asked to pay $23,979 just to cover the interest charges on the deficit portion of the initial financing. This amount is over and above the $49,609 which is to be paid annually to cover the debentures.

County chooses committees

The committee membership for 1984 was announced at the December 14 meeting of Haliburton County Council. Dysart Reeve Murray Fearrey, who chaired the steering committee which allocated the committee members, told the meeting there appeared to be a "feeling of unhappiness" among some council members about the way committee seats had been allocated in the past. In particular, there was concern that there wasn't enough participation by all the townships in the major committees.

He said to help alleviate this problem several committees had been expanded, including the road committee which will now have seven members in stead of five. A number of other committees also will have increased membership this year.

"It is not possible to put everyone where you'd like to," Fearrey told the meeting.

The following are the lists of committees and members (in alphabetical order) as outlined in the report accepted by the county council.

Management: Harry Davis, Murray Fearrey, Dalton Macdonald, Robert McCausland, Mack Peters.

Personnel: Murray Fearrey, Bill Howe, Ron Gambell, Keith Tallman and Bob Vick.

Finance: Ross Duncan, Glynn Lewis, Ed Pergolas.

Correspondence: Jane Franklin, Don Shortreed, Dwain Wruth.

Road Committee, the December 31 expiry date of the appointment is indicated in the brackets: Gary McKnight (1984), Dalton MacDonald (1985), Ron Gambell (1986), Keith Tallman (1987), Bill Howe (1988), Bob Vick (1988) and Harry Davis (1984).

Hyland Crest Committee of Management: Murray Fearrey, Ed Pergolas, Mack Peters, Robert McCausland, and Don Shortreed.

Haliburton County Public Library Board: representatives from council—Harry Clark, Ross Duncan, Bill Howe, Non-council appointments: Shirely McGee; Holly Sisson, Marilyn Stouffer.

Property: Harry Clarke, Gary McKnight, Elgin Stouffer.

Chamber of Commerce: Ron Gambell, Elgin Stouffer.

Economic development: no appointments made.

Children's Aid Services: Jane Franklin.

Children's services: Glynn Lewis.

Health Unit: Keith Tallman.

Planning committee: the reeves of all ten municipalities.

Forest management: Elgin Stouffer, Mack Peters and Dwain Wruth.

The warden Lyle McKnight is an ex officio member of all county committees.

Pergolas, head of the finance committee and one of council's representatives on the utilities commission, is obviously not pleased with the situation. He finds fault with the Ministry of Environment on a number of counts. He says the ministry has been less than candid in explaining the total costs to previous councils. "We look to the senior levels of government for guidance in these matters," he commented, "I don't feel the ministry steered the municipal council straight when the facility was first being proposed."

The Deputy Reeve has also suggested that the 20¢ per foot frontage per year, which was proposed by the MOE was unrealistically low. The municipality is locked into that figure now, however, since some residents prepaid the full amount while others are paying on a yearly basis. He notes that it was this unrealistically low charge which helped create the deficit which the township is struggling to get out from under.

Pergolas also notes that in the past year or so, as he attempted to piece together the information needed to provide a complete background on the sewer system deal, the ministry personnel have been uncooperative. He suggested it was a struggle to get the information the municipality needed to put the project in perspective.

"Through the years we practised restraint, trying to run the system in a proper manner," Pergolas stated. "All we would hear from the ministry was a once a year letter advising of the new rate which reflected the cost per 1000 gallons."

That rate started at $1.20 per thousand gallons in 1980, and rose each year to $1.34, in 1981, $1.74 in 1982 and $2.21 in 1983. That final figure will raise $57,200. The MOE is demanding the township pay $145,474 in 1984, an increase of approximately 155%.

Three options

According to the deputy reeve, the township has three options. The first is to petition the Ontario Cabinet for relief from the deficit interest charges. This would eliminate the $23,979 from the 1984 bill presented earlier this month by MOE. Pergolas feels that the remainder could be met through increased rates and use of a portion of another Ontario government grant. "I don't like to make use of that grant for this purpose," Pergolas commented. "It could be better used elsewhere." He said the $15,000 taken from the grant would reduce the size of the rate increase.

In an effort to demonstrate the municipality's good faith, the council was expected to strike new rates December 27 for 1984 which reflected the scenario above. In the meantime the appeal to the Cabinet for relief from the deficit charges would go ahead.

The second option available to the municipality would be to purchase the sewer system and plant and operate it as a part of the township. The municipality already owns the water system, which is currently generating more revenue than expenses. By purchasing the sewer system from the MOE, the township would be able to stabilize yearly cost fluctuations. While the Ministry is willing to sell the system to the municipality, it will only do so if the township assumes all the debt charges, including the financing of the accumulated deficit. It is unlikely the township would make the purchase on that basis, although some formula for the purchase may be included in the appeal to Cabinet. The township could also lease the facility.

Finally, the municipality could simply ignore the request for a 155% increase in payments requested by the ministry. If the township did that, Pergolas suggests the only option for the province would be to appoint a trustee to oversee the operation of the entire township.

New rates

While details on the new rates being struck at the meeting Tuesday evening (December 27) were not available at press time, it is believed the increases will range from 35% to 100% depending on the type of service.

In the meantime, the township council is preparing its appeal to the Ontario Cabinet in hopes of convincing the legislators that special consideration is needed for the municipality. Its expected to take up to three months before the Cabinet considers the appeal.

125th anniversary

- There will be a number of projects at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery. An exhibition of clothing "then and now" will take place with senior citizens serving as models for the clothing. A Heritage Day is also planned when an appraisal expert will be on hand to assess family heirlooms. The gallery also plans a Festival of Children's Plays through the summer months when plays based on the heritage theme will be presented on an outdoor stage.

- The local Scouting organization will prepare a history of that group through photographs and other memorabilia, presented on panels and displayed at various locations throughout the year.

- The municipality will present heritage awards to citizens who have made special contributions to the community over the years.

- The traditional Canada Day celebrations will be expanded to include the heritage themes as they relate to the province and the municipality.

- As noted last week, the members of the municipal council have agreed to don the attire of the mid 1800's for regular Council meetings for a six month period beginning in June.

- The Times will be producing a booklet tracing the history of various groups and organizations in the community.

- Other activities still in the planning stage include a fishing derby, photography contest, special awards to sportsmen, beard growing contest, professional craft awards and writing contests, among others.

Watch The Times for more details as they are announced.

Dogs continue to harass deer

Conservation officers with the Ministry of Natural Resources, Minden office, are becoming concerned with the number of incidents of dogs chasing deer. According to C. O. Eric Mitchell, three such incidents have been reported to the Ministry so far this year. He expects the heavy snowfall could result in more problems as well.

In one of the incidents, the dog pursuing the deer had to be shot by the officer called to the scene, while in another the deer had to be destroyed.

"The crust which has formed under the snow creates a problem for the deer at this time of the year," Mitchell explained. "The crust is strong enough to support the weight of a dog, but not that of a deer." That but not that of a deer. This makes the deer easy prey for the dogs, which often travel in packs."

As the deer attempts to escape the dogs it tires quickly, Mitchell explained. In some cases the sharp edges of the icy crust cuts through the legs of the deer. "The deer which was destroyed in the Carnarvon area had the skin on all four of its legs broken. The flesh was cut away and the bones and the tendons were showing. The animal was lying down." The animal was considered to have been so severely injured by the wounds that it was destroyed.

In the other incident in the Kilmount area, the Conservation Officer was forced to kill a dog which refused to give up the chase of deer. The owner of the dog, who was on the scene, attempted to call the dog and lure it away with food. However, the animal persisted and the conservation officer shot the dog.

"We do not enjoy shooting people's dogs," Mitchell commented, "but it is our duty to protect wildlife." He noted that it is illegal for individuals to allow the dogs to run at large during the closed deer season. He also pointed out that MNR officials have the right to shoot a dog which is harassing wildlife.

Mitchell noted that in most cases the dogs involved are well fed house pets who pursue the deer simply for the enjoyment of the chase. It is rare that they actually attack the deer or attempt to eat the meat of the animal.

A Conservation Officer inspects the carcass of a deer, which it is believed, died of exhaustion after being chased by dogs. The picture was taken several years ago, but is indicative of the consequences to the deer herd of allowing dogs to run at large.

However, the strenuous chase through the deep snow can have serious consequences for the deer.

In addition to the lacerations which the animal can sustain from the jagged ice crust, Mitchell notes that deer can be very vulnerable during the winter. "They are eating less and are in a weakened condition. The food they have access to is of limited quality," he notes. A long drawn out chase weakens the animal further and can result in its ultimate death.

Mitchell also points out that the does are carrying fawns during the winter months. If they are harassed in the later stages of the pregnancy they will abort the fawn.

The Conservation officer said the problem of dogs running at large can often be traced to seasonal visitors who normally reside in the city. "They visit the cottage and let the dogs out for a run, something they can't do in the city," he said. However the run these dogs take often results in serious consequences for the local deer population.

Mitchell said the only remedy is for dogs to be tied up or otherwise confined during the winter season. He said that charges will be laid against owners of dogs which are allowed to run free.

Mitchell also asked for the co-operation of the general public in protecting the deer herd.

"People who see a deer being chased should call our office immediately," Mitchell suggests, "giving the location of the incident and a description of the dogs." The phone number for the Minden District Office of the Ministry of Natural Resources is 286-1521.

The great Minden challenge

1984 will be a special year in the townships of Anson, Hindon and Minden. The municipality will be marking its 125th anniversary. Most local service clubs and organizations will be participating in the celebrations either by initiating new projects or modifying existing programs to include the heritage theme.

The fact that the province is also marking its bicentennial next year, gives reason for added incentive and effort in the local celebrations.

While the community often looks to groups to organize activities and celebrations of this sort, individuals can also make a contribution to the success of the anniversary. For example, they can prepare costumes depicting the mid 1800's and participate in parades and other special events. Historic theme floral displays, special restoration projects or efforts to make the history of the area come alive are all examples of projects an individual can undertake to mark Minden's 125th anniversary.

In an effort to spread the word about Minden, I, (if you'll allow me to shed my usual second person plural persona), Jack Brezina, editor and publisher of this newspaper, will, for each of the 366 days of 1984, endeavour to wear an article of clothing, pin or other insignia, bearing in some form, the name 'Minden'. Indeed, to ensure that I uphold this undertaking, I hereby offer a free one year subscription to this newspaper (or a one year subscription extension for those who have been wise enough to subscribe already) to any individual who challenges me to show them my 'Minden' insignia and I am unable to produce it. The only criteria for those who challenge me is that they must have an article of clothing, pin or other insignia which also bears the name 'Minden' and must show it before I am required to reveal mine.

So get yourself ready with T-shirts, pins, hats, shorts, rings or whatever with Minden on it. I'm ready. Are you? The great Minden Challenge begins January 1, 1984.

Editor:

I think the township council, the shopkeepers and the people of Minden should be made aware of the extremely poor, slipshod bus service that Travelways Bus Lines is now supplying to your village. The bus line service now completely bypasses your village, which could have some effect on your summer trade from summer visitors who travel by bus. The present bus service completely ignores your downtown area of the village by dropping off the passengers on Highway 35 (The Brown Owl).

Every other town and village on the route north of Lindsay has a bus stop right in the downtown district. Why has Travelway Bus Lines decided to ignore your village? The present bus stop is not even inside the village boundaries. A visitor after buying a ticket to Minden is debused outside the village and is forced to make his own way, somehow, to the downtown area. When a traveller buys a ticket to Minden they expect to arrive in Minden not at a bus stop (restaurant) outside of Minden.

This poor bus service started on the Labour Day weekend. Up to that time bus service was supplied to downtown Minden, which was very convenient to the bus passengers. When the bus service was altered I phoned the Route Manager (Travelways) to inquire as to the reasoning for this change, and his excuses were very "lame duck" to say the least.

His first excuse was that bus drivers did not like driving through the heavy traffic in the downtown area. Their second excuse was that complaints have been received by the bus lines that their stop was causing partial blocking of the emergency vehicles leaving the garage.

Both of these excuses seem a bit far fetched to me. The third excuse was the bus lines had taken a survey and had found that most of the passengers were not from Minden so therefore there was not that great a demand for a bus stop in the village. (I wonder when or how this so called survey was conducted).

He also stated that the bus terminal in Lindsay was on the outskirts of Lindsay so therefore it was no inconvenience to the people of Minden to have the bus stop outside of Minden, but what the manager seemed to forget was the bus stop at the Moose Lodge (downtown) in Lindsay. At this time I pointed out the fact that the bus leaves Highway 35 for quite a distance to service Fenelon Falls. He felt that this had no bearing on the decision to bypass Minden.

When the bus stopped in Minden (Mae's store) there was a place for passengers to wait for a bus (coming or going). At the present time passengers arriving on the late bus (9:45 at night, Fridays) they have no place to get out of the weather except one telephone booth. The bus stop is closed and with cold winter weather approaching this seems to me to be totally inadequate service for passengers arriving in Minden.

I have phoned the bus line several times and they seem very adamant regarding any change in the present bus service. I have been travelling this route every 2 - 3 weeks since 1966 and I think the down grading of service to your village is a very poor decision on the bus lines part, and seems to relegate your village to second class customers of the bus lines.

The route manager said that there were few complaints from the people of Minden regarding the alteration of bus service. Perhaps if the township council were to communicate with Travelways a better arrangement could be made regarding bus service directly into the village.

Federation of Ontario Naturalists

The history of aviation is a record of our attempts to imitate birds. In fact the word aviation is formed from the root aves, which is latin for bird.

Our feathered friends are capable of very inspiring aerobatics, no doubt about it. But from the days of Daedalus and Icarus, the fabled men of flight, through to Leonardo Da Vinci and the Wright brothers, our fascination with avian models has obscured the potential contribution of other winged creatures - insects.

Now I grant you, when a mosquito lands for lunch on your arm, your thoughts don't immediately turn to the configuration of its wings. But that's not the whole picture of the insect world. Look at the humble dragonfly for example. It is capable of flying stunts few birds can equal. Anyone who's watched one on a summer afternoon can recall seeing it hover effortlessly, then suddenly dart backward or sideways with amazing speed. Its power in flight is so great that it can lift fifteen times its own weight.

All this talent is being recognized at last by aerospace engineers and scientists who have been studying the dragonfly for several years at the University of Colorado. Their efforts, prompted by a search for ways to extend the life of helicopter blades, has shown the dragonfly to be a master of something called "unsteady aerodynamics".

Aircraft designs based on studies of soaring birds, come under the heading of "steady state" aerodynamics, and rely on the interplay of forces resulting from a continuous flow of air across a fixed wing. The dragonfly however, uses its wings to stir up the air, creating turbulence it can control to take flight. Essentially the leading wing creates large whirlpools which in turn create vacuums from which the rear wing extracts and channels the energy. Amazingly versatile, dragonfly wings operate like paddles, which can rotate, or move up, down, backward and forward.

This simple design has served dragonflies for 250 million years. No surprise then, that it is of interest to scientists trying to keep helicopters in the air.

Personally I hope they don't learn all of the dragonfly's secrets. The thought of riding an airplane capable of the same manoeuvres, makes me shudder.

The latest addition to the downtown Minden scene is the banner which spans the street at the CIBC and Floyd Hall Insurance building. The banners can be easily changed, allowing non-profit organizations to advertise their activities. Bookings for the banner are now being taken.

What was said

On October 31, Victoria Haliburton MPP, John Eakins, questioned the Minister of Culture and Recreation Reuben Baetz about the status of the Kanawa International Canoe Museum. The following comments were recorded in Hansard:

Mr. Eakins: I want to raise one question. I do not know at this stage whether or not there is an answer, except for the feeling of the ministry that you are not going to rob one part of the province in order to support another. My question is on the future of the Kanawa International Museum. I think Mr. Brock is probably familiar with some of that and a lot of discussion is still to take place in that regard because of the ownership of it.

I know a survey has been commissioned, a study, in order to take a look at whether there are other parts of the province that should share in it. Right now, it is a focal point and can be a greater focal point in the county of Haliburton. I would not want to see that world-famous museum moved to some other place simply because there is greater pressure for it. I hope that if people come to discuss that with your ministry you will do your best to make sure that the museum stays in the area there. You do have quite a commitment to Haliburton. You have shown this through the Ministry of Natural Resources and through the Ministry of Tourism and Recreation by supporting a facility that is already there.

I recently had the pleasure of attending the opening of their building, the Minden White Water Preserve which is internationally important in the kayak championships. I believe next year some world championships are going to be held there. The Pan-American Games have been held there. You do have a very strong commitment to that area in your support of the White Water Preserve, and also what has taken place at Dorset through the Leslie M. Frost Natural Resources Centre there.

When we see the commitment to the kayak and canoe run on the Gull River, I feel we should be putting our support into making sure that museum stays there. I agree with you that it should have a better means of presenting itself to the public. I just would ask that the ministry does everything possible to make sure that museum stays in the area. It is a natural area for it. That has been shown through the commitment of the Ministry of Natural Resources to the area.

Hon. Mr. Baetz: We are very keenly aware of the desires of the people as expressed here by the member for Victoria - Haliburton. I do not know if there have been any last-minute discussions on this. Mr. Brock may be able to fill us in.

Mr. Brock: I was up there only a few weeks ago to tour the canoe museum for the first time. It is a very interesting resource. I would support the proposal to try to ensure that it stay in that area. That is where those canoes were first built and established. Historically, it fits in that area, there is no question about it. If we can help in some way to make that presentation much more attractive to tourists I think it could do much better.

Mr. Eakins: I agree with you. I realize there are some unresolved problems. I appreciate your comment and I do want to bring the issue to your attention. It is a focal point that they need and deserve there. With some further development it would be a great attraction to that part of the province.

TRAVELWAYS

The second rotation of Katimavik participants has now left Minden for Val d'Or Quebec. Seen here with the local co-ordinator, Scott Moody, centre rear, the crew has been involved in a number of community projects including arena maintenance, cutting cross-country ski trails, clearing the park behind the library, painting at the Chamber of Commerce office and dismantling the building on the Welch property. A new group of participants arrives early next month to complete the present term of Katimavik.

Friendly phone service

by Marie Wallace
Co-ordinator

Now that winter is upon us, we sometimes get a feeling of isolation. This is especially true of seniors living alone. But we don't want this lonely feeling to last and it needn't.

Home Support has a free service for the elderly or handicapped who live alone. Thanks to our wonderful volunteers, you can be matched with a person who is compatible in personality and interests who will call you daily or as many times as you wish during the week. This program is known here as "Fonc-a-Friend"; in other areas it is known as "Telassure", "Telephone Assurance Service", "Telephone Visiting Chain" or "Telephone Buddies".

Unfortunately, in February of 1981 an elderly resident of Haliburton County died in his home - he had no close neighbours. His body was discovered a week later by visiting relatives. We don't want to learn of this ever happening again. By having close contact with friends and by letting them know if you feel unwell, you can receive help in time.

If you would like to have a friendly chat with a friendly person on a regular basis, you may call me at 457-2941 and I will match you with a caring volunteer. This is all part of making Haliburton County the best place in which to live! New volunteers are always welcome, please call me if you wish to become involved in any of our programs! Merry Christmas!

Council briefs

The following are items from the December 15 meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden municipal council.

Quotation

The council has agreed to circulate terms of reference for a waste management study for the Scotch Line Landfill site. The purpose of the study will be to determine how the life of the present facility can be extended.

The information is to be circulated to consulting firms qualified to prepare such a report.

Tender accepted

The lowest bid, submitted by Pritchard Electric, was accepted by the council for the installation of decorative Christmas lighting on Minden's Main Street. The company tendered $1425.

Two other bids were received for the work. They were $1800 William Payne and Sons Ltd. and $2850 from Minden Electric.

Katimavik

The municipal council has agreed to sponsor another Katimavik work project next year. The application for the municipality is being completed and will be forwarded for approval.

The present Katimavik work project expires in April at the end of the third group's stay. The new project, if approved will start in late spring.

Community Centre

Two groups were given municipal grants to cover the rental of the community centre. The Boy Scouts of Minden were given a grant to cover the rental of the upstairs hall for their father and son banquet earlier this year. The Minden Kinsmen will receive a grant to cover the rental of both the upper and lower portion of the centre for the 1984 winter carnival.

Parking lot

The parking lot at the rear of the Northland Surplus store will be closed as of the new year. Owner of the property, Charles Brandon, notified the council by letter that he was terminating an agreement with the council made several years ago which allowed the muni-pality to develop a parking area on that location.

Mr. Brandon said his reason for terminating the agreement was that he is in the process of selling the property in question.

Joyous
New Year

Good Luck

THANK YOU!

Within the municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden there are numerous committees and organizations, funded by the municipality, which help to make our community a better place in which to live. Most, if not all of these groups include citizen volunteers who freely give of their time, talent and abilities for the benefit of all. The municipal council of Anson, Hindon and Minden salute these volunteers and extend sincere thanks for their contribution.

CAS wants your opinion

The Kawartha - Haliburton Children's Aid Society is reviewing its services to its catchment area of Peterborough, Victoria and Haliburton Counties.

All Children's Aid Society programs are being reviewed: Adoption; Foster Care; Family Counselling; Child Protection; Unmarried Parent Counselling; Prevention Services; Adolescent Counselling; Development and Support of Community Services; and Alternate to Care Services.

The services of Kawartha - Haliburton Children's Aid Society are available to any resident of the three counties. Thirty-six social work, child care and after hours emergency staff provide service from offices in Peterborough, Lindsay and Haliburton. The Agency's finances are carefully administered by a full time chartered accountant. A small clerical staff keeps the three offices running smoothly. A corp of 152 foster parents provide care for foster children. Children with special treatment needs are placed in group homes and treatment institutions supervised by the Ontario Government.

As a community agency the Kawartha - Haliburton Children's Aid Society is concerned that all residents of Peterborough, Victoria and Haliburton Counties who require its service find these services accessible and effective.

The Agency is asking all residents of the three counties to participate in its review.

The Agency is asking citizens to send them a letter commenting on their service.

The Agency wants to know:

- if its service is known, available and effective,
- ideas for improving service

- if there are child welfare needs that are not being served.

Written comments will be important information. They will be read, considered and will affect the plans that are made for the coming year.

The planning process has begun. To insure comments will be part of the process, letters should be mailed within the next two weeks.

Letters may be addressed to:

Miss Dorothy Barrass,
Executive Director,
Kawartha - Haliburton
Children's Aid Society,
570 Water Street,

Short courses help farmers

-Ag report-

Going "back to school" to learn about new and different aspects related to your business or personal interests, is popular with many people today. And farmers are no exception.

During the winter months there are a variety of information meetings and short courses arranged by farm organizations, agri-businesses, etc. to help farmers keep up to date on the latest agricultural technology, and as a result, do a better job producing food for all of us.

This winter three special short courses are being organized for Victoria County, and area farm people, by the staff of the Lindsay Agricultural Office. These courses will be sponsored by the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food through the Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology.

Each of these short courses will feature sessions on financial management along with topics of current interest related to production management.

Participation in each course is limited, so pre-registration is required. The deadline for registering is Friday, January 13, 1984. Contact the Lindsay Agricultural Office to get more details on the course in which you are interested, and a registration form.

A short course for Young Farmers will be held at the Lindsay Agricultural Office on Wednesday evenings. It will last for 6 weeks from February 1st to March 7th.

A short course for Beef Producers will be held in Omeme on Thursday evenings. It will also run for 6 weeks from February 2nd to March 8th.

The third short course is for Farm Spouses. This will be daytime sessions on Tuesdays, lasting for 4 weeks from February 7th to February 28th. Omeme will be the location for this short course.

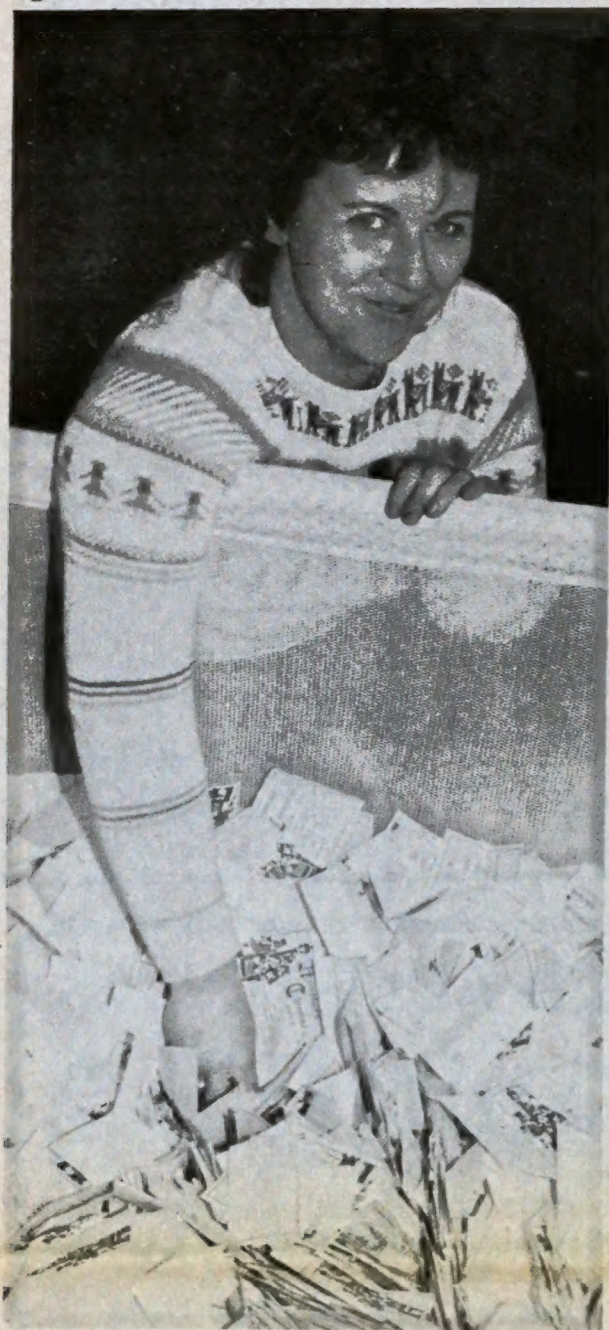

Events this week:

Saturday, December 31: Farm Inventory Day.

Monday, January 9: 8:00 p.m. - Victoria County Community Pasture Annual Meeting, Lindsay Agricultural Office.

Tuesday, January 10: 7:30 p.m. - Haliburton County Farmers' Association Annual Meeting, Minden Council Chambers.

Wednesday, January 11: 10:00 a.m. - Maple Producers Information Day, Bobcaygeon Arena.

Koshlong Lake pollution report

Lake trout over 26 inches caught in Koshlong Lake in Glamorgan Township are not to be eaten, according to a recent lake pollution survey released by the Ministry of Environment.

The bulletin is one of a series from MOE covering lakes throughout the province.

According to the report, smallmouth bass over 18 inches are also not to be consumed if caught in Koshlong Lake.

The ministry tested the lake for mercury, PCBs, Mirex and pesticide pollution in lake trout, rainbow smelt and small mouth bass. The following is a summary of the findings:

No restrictions: lake trout up to 12 inches; rainbow smelt; and smallmouth bass up to eight inches.

Limited consumption: lake trout 12 inches to 26 inches; smallmouth bass 12 inches to 18 inches.

No consumption: lake trout over 26 inches; smallmouth bass over 18 inches.

Women of child bearing age and children under 15 years of age should follow the advice given under the 'no restriction' category only.

Complete details of the MOE bulletin can be obtained at the Minden office of the Ministry of Natural Resources.

Poor season still claimed lives

Ontario Transportation and Communications Minister James Snow recently released figures on snowmobile accidents for the 1982-83 winter season.

"Of special concern," he said, "was the number of fatalities, which combined both drinking and speeding. Of the nine drivers involved in a fatality, eight had been drinking and six had been speeding."

"While the general figures were the lowest in the past 10 years," Snow reported, "there is still a very real concern about snowmobile safety since it was the mildest winter in many years."

"In spite of the limited season, there were 358 reported accidents, 11 deaths and 316 people injured. And while these figures are down more than 50 per cent from the previous year," he continued, "they cannot be said to reflect any improvement in the safe operation of these machines.

"Slightly more than half the accidents (195) occurred on the weekend, primarily in good visibility (307 as compared to 51) and defects were found in only 45 cases," Snow added.

"This mild weather also reflected the carelessness with which many snowmobilers approach driving on lakes and river," Snow continued. "Despite innumerable warnings on radio and in print, the number of drownings increased dramatically."

"Seven drivers and two passengers were drowned compared to three drivers and one passenger the previous winter. It's obvious that despite increased publicity on the dangers of drinking and driving and snowmobiling on thin ice, drivers continue to take chances.

"With winter close at hand, I would like to remind every snowmobiler that care and caution are important to ensure the safe enjoyment of one of the greatest winter sports," he concluded.

OPP mark 75th

The Ontario Provincial Police are celebrating their 75th year of law enforcement in 1984.

The provincial police force was founded in 1909. From the original 45 men, it has expanded to its present-day complement of 5,200 police officers and civilian support staff.

The OPP polices almost one million square kilometres in Ontario as it has a "residual" policing responsibility: that is, it polices all of those areas which do not have an established police force.

OPP Commissioner

Archie Ferguson said, "The OPP has been an important element in the development of this province during the 20th century. The OPP is present in almost 200 communities and many of the anniversary activities planned will involve people in the communities we police."

Comm. Ferguson said that one of the first signs of the 75th anniversary will be bright coloured decals displayed on OPP cruisers. The decals will also be placed on doors leading into OPP buildings.

An underlying theme of the anniversary will be the provincial police force's preparation for the years leading up to the hundredth anniversary in the year 2109.

Prominent in the 75th birthday celebrations will be the OPP Pipes and Drums Band and the Golden Helmets Motorcycle Precision Team. They will be visiting fairs and parades all over the province.

Included in the anniversary plans is publication of a book on the history of the OPP. It is expected that this book will become a valued addition to many private and public collections.

Kinette Korner

by Cathy King

Recently some Minden Kinettes went to a curling bonspiel in Port Hope to defend their championship title. They didn't bring the trophy back this year, but I hear they had a lot of fun trying; and newest Kinette Mary Jane Travers won the Ladies' Wrist Wrestling Championship. Congratulations!

Last Saturday, the Minden Kinettes held their Christmas Party at the Wagon Wheel. They were pleased to have as their guests, Barry and Doris Stewart, Larry and Cheryl McKnight and the Kinettes' husbands. Thanks to Buck and Dora Foster for a delicious dinner (turkey with all the trimmings).

The entertainment portion of the evening was lots of fun, with Kinettes Norma and Cathy running an unusual version of Pin the Tail on the Donkey and President Sue presenting a skit involving audience participation. There was one casualty from the skit; (I hear Kin Peter is looking for a tailor). From what I could tell, the evening was enjoyed by all.

On behalf of the Minden Kinettes I would like to say Merry Christmas and a Healthy and Happy 1984 to all!

Hi kids!
Here is another puzzle for you. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters.

It's as easy as that. Have fun.

Dear Reader: - By the time this letter reaches you Christmas will be o'er. We wonder what will happen in nineteen eighty-four. The chapel service Sunday night took on a different shape, instead of a sermon, Rev. Burgess had a tape - The Grither Trio singing lovely Christmas carols and the bell ringers, ringing silent night.

Fun and Fitness Monday morning - we did not go, so who won the game, we do not know. Doris showed us three movies Monday night - Octopus Hunt, Tour of London Post Office and Adventure in Newfoundland, which was quite grand.

We would like to say a big "Thank You" to Evelyn Coleman, who brought her class of girls in training, down to sing Christmas Carols for us, which was a nice thing to do.

Rev. Westhaver, Minden United Church, conducted a very impressive service in the chapel this Tuesday. Fred Ballard came, the music to play. The ladies from Allsaw Pentecostal Church came over, played and sang so lovely for us before they went away - Christmas carols - they really have the touch. We thank them for coming, we enjoyed them so much. With good entertainment we are truly blessed, especially at Christmas. Tuesday night the Watson, Smith musicians came back to us again. Al has won many trophies playing his violin, Thelma on the piano plays. They make a fine team. Every time they play for us it seems like a dream.

Ted Carr and Art Young had birthdays on the same day. How many years I had better not say.

We are sorry we missed this, but we understand Mr. and Mrs. Wilson of Kinmount and two daughters came over and entertained us grand. This was a real nice thing to do and we would like to say a big "Thank You", and a joyous Christmas too. Some residents are going out to spend Christmas, some others are coming in - to tell you all about it I wouldn't know where to begin.

This twenty-second day of December is a day Jack and Jessie Walters always can remember. This is their fiftieth anniversary of their marriage day. Hearty "Congratulations" we would like to say.

Tea Party was Thursday afternoon by members of the Auxiliary and what a party it turned out to be. While we were being served to satisfy our needs we were being entertained by Rose Barry and Mrs. Reid, who played and sang good Christmas carols. We thank you Auxiliary Members and our musicians too. This is something we didn't want to miss. The men and others as well received a hug and kiss.

Rev. George Elliott of Minden Anglican Church had a very impressive Christmas Communion Service in the chapel this Tuesday. Fred Ballard was snowed in and couldn't come the music to play, so Doris took over, played and led the singing too, without our Doris what could we do?

The weather has been so changeable and has snowed a lot, we didn't know if our entertainers would come Friday afternoon or not. Well, they came, bless their dear hearts, each one had to do his different part. Jean Cox to play the music for sing song and Grace to lead the singing - so glad they came along.

We have just learned of the passing of Herbert Shorter. As we are the "Hyland Crest Reporter" our deepest sympathy from all the Residents here, to his wife and family and relatives far and near.

Friday night Rev. Wicks of Minden Gospel Church, brought his entertainers along. They entertained us royally with music and song. Rev. Wicks would read part of the Christmas story, they would sing a carol or two - a real joyous evening all the way through. Ray and Chris Johnston played and sang for us - this was really swell. The younger class played and sang so well. Then we were served a nice lunch too. We would like to say "God Bless You All" and a "Big Thank You".

Santa didn't make it here Christmas Eve. This is what he said, "It was so cold Rudolph's nose froze so he couldn't guide his sled." He came Christmas morning instead. With bells on his fingers, also on his toes, with his jolly elf and Santa's Ho Ho's. Lots of presents and toys for all the good girls here, also we good boys.

We at The Times hope you had a very Merry Christmas and trust you will have a safe and prosperous New Year.

Visiting with Phil and Florence Robinson during the Christmas holiday season was their son, Bradley Robinson.

Our sincere sympathies are extended to the families of Herbert Shorter and Tim Clark, who passed away since last week.

Christmas visitors with Bess and Fred Cox were Betty Cox of Downsview, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cox and Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Cox.

The Bennett Family had their holidays enhanced by the presence of Peter's Mother and Father, Mr. and Mrs. A. Bennett who recently took up residence in Toronto after moving from Houghton, near Stafford in England. Also attending the celebrations were Peter's sister Sue, her husband Maurice and their daughter Tiffany.

Hugh Taylor of Reading, England and Karen McCreadie of Blantyre, Scotland, travelled to Bracebridge with the Beers family to spend Christmas with Bill's mother, Kay. Hugh had his first taste of roof shovelling and seemed to enjoy sliding into the snowbanks when the job was done. They also celebrated Karen's birthday on Christmas Day. Hope you had a happy day Karen.

Belated birthday greetings to Les Northey of Minden, whom, we understand, has not been up to par recently. Trust all will be well soon, Les, and hope you too, had a happy day.

Visiting over the Christmas holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Lacey were their daughter Joanne Oatman and her husband Jim and their children Joshua and Crystal. Also visiting over the Christmas holidays was their daughter Jeanne Cruickshank and her husband Mike and their children Jim, Sheri and Michellene and her boyfriend Paul Anderson.

Winners at the afternoon card party last Thursday were, for euchre, lone hands - Joyce Hewitt and Eleanor Addison and Jeanne Sears.

Minden Horticultural Society's Christmas Door Decorating Contest was judged Friday by Joe Warder and Jean Lacey. First prize was awarded to Joan Pearson, Minden; second prize Lorna Hicks of Ingoldsby; and third prize went to Isabelle Keefer of Haliburton. Congratulations to the winners. Hopefully next year more people will enter this interesting and decorative contest.

Friends of our reporter Mike Shirley will be pleased to know that he is back in Minden and at work after undergoing surgery at Ross Memorial Hospital. Nice to have you back Michael, hope the leg will be back to normal soon.

Honoured by her fellow workers and presented with a beautiful afghan at the Red Cross hospital Christmas Party last week, was Mildred Gartshore who is retiring from the hospital at the end of December. A native of Minden, Mildred is the wife of the late Loran Gartshore and mother to four sons, Vern, Don, Craig and Gary and grandmother to four grandsons. We join the staff at the hospital in wishing Mildred a long and happy retirement.

Minden W.I. Christmas party

The December 21st meeting of the Minden W. I. was at the United Church Hall with Mrs. L. Cox presiding. After the opening there was a moment of silence in memory of a member, Mrs. W. H. Stevens, followed by a verse.

Nineteen members answered the Roll with Christmas verse or Good Wishes and 4 guests were made welcome. Mrs. W. Moore reported sending 17 cards since last meeting and she asked us to turn in ladies birthday cards for next Roll Call.

Collections were taken for Card Fund and Pennies for Friendship and some put money in the Birthday Box. Yvonne Beaucage will give her demonstration at the next meeting and Mrs. W. Moore offered to give a paper at the March meeting.

The Treasurer, Mrs. Kernohan, had the Trillium Pins and these will sell for $1.00. The meeting closed with God Save the Queen and the W. I. Grace and then exchange of gifts and secret pal gifts were given out to Christmas music.

After this all enjoyed the delicious lunch and then we joined in several Christmas carols with music played by guest Mrs. Denzil Cox.

Next meeting will be at the Library Cultural Centre January 18 at 2 and all ladies are welcome.

NEW YEAR'S EVE

"It's smart to wear a helmet. If I were playing today, I'd wear one."

Bobby Orr, Hall of Fame hockey player

Too many things can go wrong on a rink, at a playground, or right in front of your house.

Accidents happen in the blink of an eye. But the sad truth is many serious head injuries suffered by children playing sports could have been avoided if proper head gear had been worn.

Brain damage is forever. That is why The Easter Seal Society encourages young people to wear protective helmets, and to play with safety in mind.

Like Bobby Orr, think and play Head First.
